COVID-19: Tiney hires top talent at speed with Tempo

CHALLENGE

Launched in 2018, fast-growing startup Tiney has been on a mission to empower micro-entrepreneurs to open their own home nurseries and give children the best start in life. Recently, the pandemic brought on a surge in demand for Tiney's service of easy access to childcare in a short period of time. With this came the challenge of scaling their team with high calibre talent to keep up with the pace. Beth Toms, Head of People at Tiney, found that they needed talented people that had the right skills and passion to excel in the startup world.

SOLUTION

Tempo was able to help Tiney find the best candidates at speed by offering an end-to-end solution. The total transparency on the role connected Tiney with enthusiastic, talented candidates that could handle the startup world. Since working with Tempo, the company has made three great hires, one permanent and two temporary. With the option of hiring temp-to-perm, the hiring process was cost-effective and low risk, as they could bring in high-quality candidates on a short-term basis with the ability to make them permanent down the line. One candidate was perfect for the role and got offered a permanent position when their responsibilities were needed more long term.
